CONRAD is renowned in the design and architectural communities for its high standards of excellence, quality detailing, and individual service. The unique translucency and sun-filtering ability of CONRAD handwoven window coverings make them excellent for hotels, restaurants, and any room with a view. Custom capabilities and large looms allow CONRAD to be used on virtually any size and style of window, including arches and angles. Motorization adds to the ease of large shade operation in a commercial environment. CONRAD's optional commercial flame retardancy treatment meets NFPA-701 requirements.

Note: Each season's harvest of natural fibers is unique in texture, color and striations. These variations, along with the hand-tied knots, add to the beauty and character of these handcrafted products. As CONRAD® shades age, they reflect the qualities of their natural fibers and the patina of time; green hues will soften to rich golden tones of autumn. Matches between lots cannot be guaranteed.

CONRAD® product designs, literature, trademarks and/or trade dress are protected under state and federal laws, including copyright, in the U.S., and elsewhere under applicable laws and international covenants and treaties. Any unauthorized use, copying or duplication of CONRAD's product designs, literature, trademarks and/or trade dress constitute infringement of CONRAD's rights and a violation of the law.
